Compounding and crediting - Dividends will be compounded every month. Dividends will be credited to your account every month.

Dividend period - For this account type, the dividend period is monthly, for example, the beginning date of the first dividend period of the calendar year is January 1, and the ending date of such dividend period is January 31. All other dividend periods follow this same pattern of dates. The dividend declaration date is the last day of the dividend period, and for the example above is January 31. If you close your share account before dividends are paid, you will not receive the accrued dividends.

Minimum balance requirements:

The minimum required to open this account is the purchase of a share in the credit union. Please see the bylaw requirements in the Common Features section for additional information.

You must maintain a minimum daily balance of $100.00 in your account to avoid a monthly maintenance fee. If, during any calendar month, your daily balance is below the required minimum, your account will be subject to a monthly maintenance fee for that calendar month. For fees and charges please refer to the credit union fee schedule. This fee will not apply to members under 18 years of age; to members with any other deposit account; to members with an active loan account; or to members who have direct deposit.

You must maintain a minimum average daily balance of $100.00 in your account to obtain the disclosed annual percentage yield.

Average daily balance computation method - Dividends are calculated by the average daily balance method which applies a periodic rate to the average daily balance in the account. The average daily balance is calculated by adding the balance in the account for each day of the period and dividing that figure by the number of days in the period. The period we use is the calendar month.

Accrual of dividends on noncash deposits - Dividends will begin to accrue on the business day you place noncash items (for example, checks) to your account.

Transaction limitations:

During any statement period, you may not make more than six withdrawals or transfers to another credit union account of yours or to a third party by means of a preauthorized, automatic, or computer transfer or telephonic order or instruction. If you exceed the transfer limitations set forth above in any statement period, your account will be subject to closure by the credit union.

SHARE DRAFT PROGRAM

First Heritage Federal Credit Union is authorized by the National Credit Union Administration to provide members with drafts to be used to withdraw funds from savings accounts. These drafts may be made payable to third parties and presented wherever they are accepted for cash, services, or merchandise.

We intend our program to meet all tests for financial soundness, legality, and superior service to our members. Members accepted for this service may be requested from time to time - and are always invited - to provide information, comments, or suggestions relating to their personal experience with the program. This is to assure that any problems can be resolved promptly and improvements instituted.

The following features of the service are important and should be carefully noted by members using it:

1. Nature of the Account. To open a share draft account you must be a member with a regular savings account. Each member will be provided with books of share drafts. Under each draft, there is a carbonless form which registers all the information written on the draft itself, in addition to a self-balancing section. These copies should be retained for reconciliation purposes. They can be retained in place as they are written or stored in the pocket provided.

2. Statements. The Credit Union will send you a monthly statement showing transactions in the account. This monthly statement can be used for reconciliation purpose. You lose your right to object to the statement unless you notify the Credit Union in writing of the errors within (60) days following the day the statement is mailed. Please refer to the Important Account Information for Our Members (Terms and Conditions) brochure for a full description of discrepancy notification time frames.

3. Paid Drafts. Paid drafts will not be returned. They will be microfilmed as a permanent record by the financial institution which processes the share drafts for the Credit Union. It is considered unnecessary to return paid drafts, since they can be reconciled by using the statements. Proof of payment can be established by receipt from the payee or by obtaining a microfilm copy (available through the Credit Union). This procedure should result in important benefits for members for two reasons:

(a) It will save the Credit Union a great deal of expense, including handling and postage, which can reduce the costs of providing the service.

(b) It will preserve the confidential nature of the service. No drafts are received or retained in the Credit Union office and no one but the member will know the reasons for which drafts are written.

4. Overdrafts. You should take care to see that drafts are not written for funds which exceed the balance in the Share Draft Account. The Credit Union does not have to pay a share draft which exceeds the balance of collected funds in the account even if you have sufficient funds in one of your other accounts to cover the overdraft. If you do write a share draft which is for an amount which exceeds the balance of collected funds in the account, the Credit Union may, at its option, make withdrawals from other deposit accounts you have with the Credit Union in increments of fifty dollars ($50.00) or less to cover the share drafts that would have overdrawn the account. The Credit Union will not make a withdrawal from your share account which would reduce the amount in that account below five dollars ($5.00). The Credit Union may, at its option, return the share draft for insufficient funds or pay drafts that would take your account to a negative balance. The Credit Union can refuse to pay overdrafts, even if it has previously paid overdrafts on this account. You are responsible for depositing the funds to bring your account back to a positive balance situation. The Credit Union may charge a service charge against your Share Draft Account or any other of your accounts allowed by law, for any overdraft which it elects to cover under the above procedures. You must pay any court costs and legal expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) which the Credit Union incurs in connection with collecting any overdraft which it pays and is not repaid out of your deposit accounts.

5. Charges. The service has been designed to eliminate or reduce to a minimum certain charges normally assessed for the provision of Share Draft Account services. For fees and charges please refer to the credit union fee schedule.

6. Using the Share Draft Account. Funds may be withdrawn from the Share Draft Account only by using the share draft forms or debit cards. If other procedures are desired, please contact the Credit Union.

7. Deposits. Deposits are made in the same way as deposits to other share savings accounts, including payroll deduction, over-the-counter payment, pay-by-mail and DepositNow (remote deposit capture). In addition, account deposit tickets in the back of each book of drafts may be used.

8. Withdrawals. The Share Draft Account is subject to the Credit Union's right to require advance notice of withdrawal.

9. Payments. The Credit Union is under no obligation to pay a share draft on which the date is more than 180 days old.

10. Spoiled Drafts. If a draft is spoiled, the following procedure is recommended. Destroy the original, mark "VOIDED" on the carbon copy and retain the carbon copy. If you wish to retain the original, tear off or mutilate the signature section so that it cannot be used.

11. Reordering Drafts. The cost of your drafts will be automatically deducted from your Share Draft Account.

12. Member Responsibility. Members are expected to use due care in using this service. If member control over the drafts is lost in any way, such as theft, loss, or unauthorized use, the Credit Union should be promptly notified so that protective measures can be taken.

13. Liability. The Credit Union is not liable for any action it takes in the collection of a deposit or a payment or withdrawal which results in a loss that is not the result of the Credit Union's negligence.

14. Direct Deposit. The program provides special advantages for members who use it for direct deposit including reducing concern about stolen, lost, or misplaced checks (just use drafts to pay bills or to redeem for cash as needed) and when you are out of town, checks come directly to us permitting you to write share drafts for immediate funds. Direct deposit is available for:

(a) Paychecks. Members may deposit their whole paycheck into their Share Draft Account in any manner most convenient for them.

(b) Social Security Payments. The United States Treasury Department encourages beneficiaries to arrange direct deposit of monthly payments.

(c) Pension Checks. Arrangements may be made to have pension checks sent directly to the Credit Union for deposit in a Share Draft Account.

Your account will be automatically qualified on that one day prior to the first day of the current statement cycle. What this means for you is if you did not qualify for the higher preferred rate, you might notice a slightly higher than the base rate APY earned on your statement due to the one day (the last day) being calculated with the higher preferred rate. If you do not meet the rewards criteria for six consecutive months, the account will be converted to a Heritage Checking Account. Terms and conditions for the Heritage Checking Account can be found in this Truth-in-Savings Disclosure.

ATM fee reimbursement - If you have met your qualifications in the linked Kasasa Cash or Kasasa Cash Back account for the monthly qualification cycle, we will reimburse you for ATM fees imposed by other U.S. financial institutions that are charged against your linked Kasasa Cash or Kasasa Cash Back account, up to an aggregate amount of $25.00 per monthly qualification cycle, and transfer them into your Kasasa Saver account on the first business day of the following statement cycle (if you have a Kasasa Cash account) or deposit them into your Kasasa Saver account on the last day of the statement cycle (if you have a Kasasa Cash Back account). ATM fees of $4.99 or less will be reimbursed up to a maximum of $4.99 per individual transaction. ATM fees of $5.00 or higher will be reimbursed if the appropriate ATM receipt is presented to a representative at one of our branches. If you believe that you have not been reimbursed the correct amount, please contact us. Note: ATM withdrawals do not count as qualifying debit card transactions for purposes of earning rewards within this account. If you close your account, you will not receive reimbursements that have not yet been credited to your account.

Limitation on number of accounts - Limit one Kasasa Saver account per social security number.

Additional terms:

The Kasasa Saver account is only offered in conjunction with either the Kasasa Cash or Kasasa Cash Back account. In the event that you close your Kasasa Cash or Kasasa Cash Back account, we reserve the right to close your Kasasa Saver account.
